

1. Programme Outcome and Course Outcome:

(a) An Overview of the Programme Outcome:

Today the Arabic language is the 5th most spoken language in the world and one of the the six official languages of the United Nations Organization (U.N.O.). It is spoken by over 400 million people across more than 24 countries of the world. There is a plenty of scope for graduates of the Arabic language programme. Students' abilities to understand and speak Arabic open doors to countless opportunities for them. Presently there is a lot of demand for Arabic language speakers. For instance, many companies recruit Arabic speakers in the KPO, BPO, Aviation, Tourism, sectors all over India. The reason is that most of the companies are involved in colossal business dealing with the Gulf region.

After pursuing Arabic Bachelor degree programme, Students can work as a professional faculty member, teacher, professor, researcher, tutor, trainer, translator, interpreter, proofreaders, content-writer either with Government or at any non-government organizations. Arabic was introduced in Indian Civil Service Examination in 1963 for the first time. And it became an optional subject to be taken at the preliminary stage of the test from then onwards.

Pursuing the Arabic language programme helps the students in their academic pursuits. By studying Arabic, students gain complete knowledge of reading classical as well as modern Arabic, which will undoubtedly assist students in their academic research and career. They can produce well researched written works using appropriate evidence based arguments, logical structure, correct grammar and proper references. Our objective is to promote higher education and learning, so that our students pursue courses of higher studies and complete them; this target has been satisfactorily achieved by the department. Our students study in different universities and obtained Master degrees in Arabic and other professional courses. Arabic is taught in more than 50 Indian universities e.g. JNU, University of Delhi, BHU, Jamia Millia Islamia, Calcutta University, Mumbai University, Madras University, Bangalore University, Osmania University, Allahabad University, Aliah University etc.

The Department is committed to the vision and mission of the college and takes care to teach students Arabic language and literature and translation from Arabic into English, Bengali and vice versa through Bachelor Degree Programme in Arabic language and literature offered by Government Girls' General Degree College, Kolkata under University of Calcutta, Kolkata.
